

Call for The de Snoo - van 't Hoogerhuijs Stichting Awards

The de Snoo - van 't Hoogerhuijs Stichting traditionally awards prizes at its symposium to recognize individual efforts in human embryology and reproduction. Since it is particularly difficult to fund innovative science in this area, the two prizes in 2024 will create opportunities for the winners to support their best and most original idea in clinical or basic research.

The board of the de Snoo - van 't Hoogerhuijs Stichting invites nominees to describe an important question in human reproduction or development and submit a plan of how it could be feasibly addressed within one year. This could involve a visit to another lab or clinic. The prizes create a golden opportunity to carry out vital pilot experiments to lead to the next career step as a gynaecologist or (human) developmental biologist whilst answering burning clinical or basic research question. The winners will present their plan in a 10 minute "pitch" at the symposium after receiving the award.

The senior prize (VIDI/VICI level) winner will receive € 40.000 for their plan plus € 1.000 for personal use.

The junior prize (PhD student/junior postdoc, VENI level) winner will receive € 15.000 plus an extra € 1.000 for personal use.

Please download the application form from <https://www.stichtingdesnoo.nl> and submit your proposal with background to the question and relevance to the field (max two pages) with an abbreviated CV indicating your suitability (max 1 page) to February 28, 2024. Winners will be notified before March 15, 2024 and should be available to receive the award and speak at the symposium.

'de Snoo – van 't Hoogerhuis Foundation'

The Dutch professor De Snoo was a prominent professor in obstetrics in the period before, and shortly after, the Second World War. He and his wife have created a foundation to promote science in the field of obstetrics and fertility. Every other year the "de Snoo – van 't Hoogerhuijs Foundation" organizes a one-day symposium on obstetrics, fertility, embryology and reproduction.
